MCGTCHEON -'She doesn't know, Tom. I didn't have the heart to tell her. She thinks I came up about extra help." "Besides," Tom went on, "I wasn't really locked up. They just held me while they investigated. And then they let me go. There's no disgrace in that-not a millionth part of the disgrace the people who struck the man must be feeling. I wouldn't be in their shoes for anything."

" Are the police trying to find them?" "Trying? Certainly not!" He paused impressively. 'The thing's most likely been hushed up."

"You mean they know?" exclaimed his father in "They probably don't know-exactly; but certain influences have been powerful enough to head off a real investigation."

"It's an outrage! And you are the one to s I'll hire a detective myself!" Tom smiled. "No use," he said. "Just forget it. But I almost

He said we could sue for false imprisonment, or sue the Morlands for damages, and split what we got. He was so persistent I had to threaten to break his face for him." Ton grinned. "That's the one bright spot in the day, The measly little rat!" Mrs. Johnson whispered to Sadie, who left the room.

As Mr. Wickham's gaze followed the girl, young and pretty, a thought of Emily Harbridge flashed through his mind. His eyes were sadder when he turned again 'This Miss Morland?" he asked. "Why wasn't she with you when you came back?" "She decided at the last minute to come in another car." "Has she done anything to help you?"

why should I? She doesn't want to get mixed up in the affair!" He spoke so bitterly that his father leaned forward quickly.

Who did she come back with?" 'Some man. A tall fellow. It was too dark to see." 'Were they ahead, or behind you?"

"Now, father, what's the use of speculating. The thing's over and done with. There's no use, I tell you.

Here Sadie Johnson returned with a pot of steaming coffee and some bread and butter. The tension was relieved. Just then the doorbell rang.

Mercy!" exclaimed Mrs. Johnson. "Who in the world is coming at this hour?"

She opened the door and confronted a tall young man who was weaving somewhat unsteadily on his feet.

Underestimating the holshevile drength is a great mistake. The capture of this town, plus the rapid advance to Grajevo, on the east Prussian southern bordes, forms the last act of the campaign begun by the Pélish retreat from the Beresina-Dneiper river line to the outer defenses o Warsaw and the Vistula's bank wes and also south of that city.

Then came the successful Polish counter attack leading to the dispersal or apture of four bolshevik armies and the Mosyr group, together known as the eastern bolshevik army, which had as its mission the capture of Warsay and the cutting of the Danzig corrido Details of Polish Drive.

As I explained in previous dispatche the Polish counter offensive began with a northerly advance from the Wiepri river which, first, drove back the rem nants of the Mosyr group; second, oc casioned the capture of the greater which was besieging Warsaw from the ern flank of the fifteenth bolshevik besieging Warsaw from the north.

Gen. Sikorsi's Advance. Next came Gen. Sikorski, advancin rthward from the Modlin bridgehea to Mlawa, where he established liaison along the Prussian frontier, cutting off spersing, or capturing a greater part of the fourth bolshevik army recently operating in the Danzig corridor and against the Modlin bridgehead and atempting to cross the Vistula river as Plock and Wloclawek.

The next question was, Could the Polish troops advancing northward from the Warsaw bridgehead and from Wieprz river reach and cross the Bug river and advance to the East out off the third and fifteenth bolsh viki armies retreating northeast? Crossing of Bug Easy.

The Poles crossed the Bug rive without any great resistance, in no captured forty-four bolshevik place encountering Russian reserves. They finally reached the Prussian bor der in two groups.

The fourth Polish army occupied the Ostrolenka district, holding all main roads and several bridges over the Narew and its northern tributaries Bialystok and Grajevo. Baseball is having its best season, and interest in White Sox, in Babe Ruth and other features of the sport is at fever heat.

This year, as well as in former years, Chicago teams have played in some of the greatest games ever staged. Malcolm MacLean, THE POST'S baseball writer, during his fifteen years of viewing battles has been present at many of them, and has prepared a series of articles, with box scores, which include—

"Addie Joss' No-Hit Game."
"The Walsh-Lavender Slab Duel."
"Twenty-Seven Innings in a Single Afternoon."
"The Most Picturesque Chicago Game."

Do you recall any of those battles? The titles are taken from a long list, and every game is memorable from a Chicago fan's viewpoint. Read the first story today. They are on the Sport Page of

August Furniture Sale

Closes Tuesday Night

You can find the odd chair you need for some particular corner; you can find the set that is wanted for a bedroom; you can find opportunities on every hand.

If you want good furniture at the lowest price, come today or tomorrow. Do not put it off. There is no telling when such low prices can ever be quoted again.

Besides the things at half price there are many hundred pieces and suits in the regular stock that bear reductions of 10 to 35 per cent, but these reductions must all be stricken off after tomorrow night. Everything must go back to regular price:

Our good customers who have during the past month so well shown their faith in the work of this store have our thanks for their confidence.

People who have yet to buy (during these two days more) may safely follow the example of the thousands who have already made the sale the best that we have ever held.

Here is the second of a series of photographic reproductions of time sheets of the department of public work howing how some employes really spend their time when they are supposed to be working for the city. This sheet reveals that Ralph E. Abell, a $1,740 a year employé, was supposed to be working on the West Madison, Twelfth street, and Wells street bridges during the month of February, 1919. As indicated by the timekeeper's circle at the ight hand margin of the page, twelve days of that time were spent at "Thompson headquarters." Notwithstanding Abell was much of the time engaged in the headquarters of the mayor, then a candidate for renomi taxpayers footed the bill. The circle in the upper right corner shows that no account of these absences from his official duties was taken when the cost of Abell's services was apportioned among the various improvements upon which he was supposed to have been employed. The time sheet reproduced yesterday showed a similar state of affairs in connection with the employment of James C. Loyth.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 29.—[Special.]—United States judges and district attorneys, corrupted federal agents, and the political campaign are charged by Wayne B. Wheeler, general coursel for the Anti-Saloon league, with responsibility for unsatisfactory enforcement of the prohibition law in several states.

In a statement issued today Mr. Wheeler alleges that district judges have aided the bootleggers by giving small fines and showing antagonism to the law, that district attorneys have precluded enforcement by demanding too much evidence, and that state and federal officers alike are making the prohibition law a "political football."

Let Mr. Cox. who has complained that the Republican position is not clear, put that in his pipe and smoke it.

Mr. Harding gives explicit grounds for his reoicing that we are not in, as Mr. Cox says he will go in. He points to the Russian-Polish war as an instance of obligation under article 10 of the treaty to preserve the territorial integrity of Poland "as against external aggression."

"The council of the league of nations would have reasoned, and reasoned correctly, that the United States could furnish the munitions and, if necessary, the men, to withstand the hordes adancing from Russia far more easily than could the exhausted nations of Europe. Moreover, inasch as this would be the first test of the scheme of world government which was formulated and demanded by the president, speaking for the United States, the fact of a special responsibility resting on our shoulders manifestly would have been deniable. Undoubtedly the league council, in advising upon the means' by which the obligaions to Poland should be fulfilled, as provided in the covenant, would have so held, and probably the conscience of America, certainly the opinion of the world, would have sustained that judgment."

Like an honest man speaking for an honest people, Senator Harding disposes of the sophistry by which Democratic apologists for the covenant have explained that the right to declare war remains in congress, notwithstanding a ratification of the covenant. Technically, legally, that might be true, but could the congress reject the appeal of the executive "without staining indelibly the honor of the nation"?

BILL ON THE WIRE.

Chicago, Aug. 26 .- [Editor of The Trib une.]-In the name of reason, what kind of a framup is Bill the Bunk's gang of experts trying to put over on the poor, supine public now, as indicated in the telephone investigation as reported in THE TRIBUNE of today? Here we find the official of the Western Electric company trying to "force" the Chicago Telephone company to install the automatic telephone, and Mr. Crumb telling us about a rental of $2.19 for telephones, the patents of which are owned by the Bell company. In the first place, the patents are run out covering telephones such as are used in Chicago. In the second place, the Bell company owns 97 per cent of the stock of Western Electric company and 98 per cent of the stock of the Chicago Telephone company. The Bell company receives 4½ per cent of the gross earnings of the Chicago Telephone company for "engineering services," though it maintains a large force of its own. The Chicago Telephone company can't make ends meet, while the Bell company tells us in its reports it never made so much money nor piled up such sums for reserve, etc. The official organ of the mayor has suddenly "laid off" on hitting the Chicago Telephone companyves, the Republican does not know the Chicago Telephone company is here any

HARD COAL MEN TO STRIKE, IS WORD TO WILSON

Miners Repudiate Wage Commission Report.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Aug. 29 .- [Special.] -Action that amounts to a general strike order to 175,000 union miners of the anthracite coal field was taken early this morning by 300 delegates of the mine locals, after a bitter session that lasted throughout the night. President Wilson received direct warning of the complete failure of his wage sion to reach a satisfactory settlement of the differences existing be tween the operators and the workers.

Officials of the United Mine Work, ers who entered into the agreement to meet the wage commission wer ruled out of the hall and told they had betrayed the workers' interests; officers of the United States department of justice, headed by Charles Ramsdell, were informed that no threat of enforcement of the Lever act could deter the mine workers from protecting their own interests.

Send Telegram to Wilson.

At the end of the meeting a telegram was drafted and signed by a committee of five men. It informs the chief executive and the creator of the coal wage commission that he has three days in which to sign the minority report of Neil Ferry or throw out the entire case of the miners and order a rehearing.

"The minority report of Mr. Ferry is the only one that can be accepted for the promotion of peace," is the practical warning of the telegram.

Demand Reply Sept. 1. An answer on or before Sept. 1 is required; otherwise all mine workers will refrain from work. The delegates represent the real pow-er of the United Mine Workers, since they are the instructed agents of the colliery locals and the men directly in touch with the entire labor movement They openly declared on the platform during the stormy protest session that their officers have outlived their use fulness and cannot be regarded as repesenting the real interests of the rank nd file.

With an ALL STAR CAST

Adapted by A.S.LeVINO

"Regrets are in order that Jack London did not live to furnish the screen with original plays of adventure. His was the visual imagination that the film must have and his was fully this atmosphere of reality on the screen. In 'The Mutiny of the Elsinore,' adapted from Jack London's stirring sea story, Edward Sloman has done just that. There is no false swaggering in the picture, none of the theatricalism which the directors of sea stories find so difficult to resist. The fight on the Elsinore, with high waves breaking over her, is one of the best we have seen. It is this impression of the actuality of things that one

"Ye-ah, and gets five hundred in cold cash for deliverin' it." said one of the Marion worthies. They measure achievement by no standards of the cloistered cell in thriving Ohio, the fostering mother of presidents.

What Cox Talks About.

he'd had relatives. Not a soul there that I knew or cared. He came back to us like a canary bird that's escaped from I the cage and is frightened. 'Governor,' he said, 'I haven't any home.' I got him a home in Columbus, and now he's working around a place there—the lawn and garden.

No One Lost in Prison Since.

Meanwhile what does James Middle on Cox talk about when he combinationspect with self-revelation?

Workmen's compensation law; self-revelation law;

ode; prison reform.

It was when he talked on prison reform that he held me well nigh spellbound, making the heart of me sick imes with his narrative of the piteous cases and the grim conditions he had unearthed, and sometimes making it not easy to keep back the tears when you got from his unim-passioned words—somehow indirectly, passioned words—somehow indirectly but very poignantly—the sense of the manly tenderness he had brought to the weary task of assuaging sorrow and easing a little the lifelong burden borne by penitent men.

It was talk I shall never forget, and the remembrance of it I shall never.

It was talk I shall never forget, and the remembrance of it I shall ever cherish—the quiet room, the sad, thoughtful face of the little man, the slence that his tired, unexcited tone seemed only to emphasize, and the putting aside for many minutes of all matters that concerned the fortunes of himself or his party.

Phrases came back to me out of the quiet—like mournful singing: ... "They had said, 'He who enters here leaves hope behind.' No, I said;'let him feel that he has a right to begin to hope. I said to the new warden, sh could readily be gratified to hope. I said to the new warden, in the matter of camanda, perhaps would be seakman to Chicago People

"Weeghman, you are a pure food crank," said a business friend of mine the other day. This set me thinking. Am I a crank? I'm going to leave it to you people who eat at my restaurants.

IT'S true that I am particular. It's true that I no food is good enough to serve you people if it is possible to get better. It's true that I will not stand a careless cook one minute. It's true that my pure milk is pure cow's milk.

My chefs are artists. They know how food should taste and they know how to make it taste that way. They are as careful as your mother used to be when she was preparing the good things for the Christmas dinner.

If my insistence on pure food is crankiness; if it is "cranky" to have everything spotlessly clean; if to exercise scrupulous care in every detail of cooking is crankiness-then I am a crank. And every one who continues to work for me is the same kind of a crank.

I have spent my life catering to the public taste. I have had fancy chefs prepare fancy dishes. These dishes look pretty and some taste good—but real people soon tire of them. I have found that nothing in the world tastes so good as pure food-cooked right and served right, 'mid clean, sanitary surroundings without fuss and furbelows.

RULY, the sun never sets on the Royal L Tape Line.

Comes a letter today from "La Rinascente"one of Italy's greatest men's wear organizations—applying for the general sales management of Royal Tailored clothes in Italy.

Another mail brings an application from Reider G. Muller of Kristiana, Norway, who wishes to undertake the distribution of Royal Tailor products in Scandinavia and Finland.

So Royal Tailor Service is not merely nation wide. It is globeencircling; shipping clothes to discerning dressers in all parts of the world [built always to special order, remember].

But you men who live in Chicago-the Royal 1 home town-do not have to send cross states and continents or your Royal clothes. The Royal plant serves you direct—only three blocks from the loop.

Moreover, if you buy in the next few days [while our August offer remains open] you get the benefit of our "bone-cost" Summer price! That's worth any man's quick action.

Chicago's Greatest Games Are Retold On Chicago's Sport Page

Those old-time Sox once made one hit off Al Orth of the Yankees, and won the game without the aid of that wallop. No wonder they called them the "Hitless Wonders."

That game, and many others, have been written up in a series of articles by Malcolm MacLean, and will appear every day on the Sport Page of THE POST, starting today.

Chicago teams have been in a number of historic battles in the last fifteen years, and most of them are in MacLean's scorebooks. Don't miss the first story and all the succeeding stories in this series.

SOX OPEN IN BOSTON TODAY

Boston, Mass., Aug. 29.-[Special.]-The tribe of Gleason spent a quiet Sunday trying to recover from the bumps given them during their last two days in Gotham, where they lost considerable ground in the pennant race. The Sox are not downhearted, but simply disgusted with their recovery but simply disgusted with their poor showing in New York. Three games are booked for the Gleasons with the Red Sox—tomorrow, Tuesday, and Wednesday—and these scraps will wind up their work on eastern diamonds for the year.

Williams probably will open the series against the Red Sox.

LUCKY STRIKE

TOBACCO

The one special thing t' makes you like Lucky Strine - in a cigarette or pipe - is this entirely different flavor of toasted Burley tobacco.

Nature has made Burley tobacco perfect - almost. Toasting finishes the job.

Toasting seals in the Burley flavor. Toasting closes the pores in each leaf. The Burley flavor can't come out except when you light your cigarette or pipe. Heat seals it in, heat releases it.

(You know the way a bee works on honey. Seals in all the delicious honey with a coatoing of wax. Same principle.)

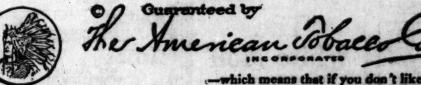

It means something to you to have the original Burley flavor on hand when you want it.

Try Lucky Strike and see for yourself how toasting makes the flavor delicious, Lacking the alcohol, equal quantities of Epsom salts and hot juice may be put together. Lacking either, put together equal quantities of juice and sugar in a glass, say four tablespoons of each, put a glass over, and set this in

You will not have to wait any longer than the rest of the juice will keep safely to find out whether the jellying stuff is there. Or cook the two if you are in a hurry. You will have to wait ten minutes for the Epsom salts to colt the pectin, and you can gook the juice and jelly in that time

Keep jellies cool as well as covered with paraffin, if you want them to keep well. If you want a stiff jelly instead of a tender one, scant the sugar. A perfect and tender jelly will quiver, but not break, when turned be the symbol of a serene old lady brighter than the stiffer sorts.

I hesitate to give advice where the question of religion is involved. The priest, the minister, or the rabbi, whose wider acquaintance with the problems involved in the marriage of people of opposing faiths, are the authorities whose advice should be sought. Religion does matter. Now Dr. Robertson Bursts Forth as a Male Pollyanna

Health Commissioner Robertson wants to know how young you are. Some people are old at 30, some are young at 90. It's a matter of mind. the commissioner quotes Emerson, perance usion, "until he has nothing else to count," and Miss Julia nd then he admonishes:

"The big important thing is to keep out of the ruts. Don't get mentally home in Evanston ossified. In other words, don't be a yesterday after a natural bonehead. Don't live wholly five months' tour in the past; live in the present and look with a vision of hope and courage interests of protoward the future. There is no reason why one should lose interest in this why one should lose interest in this big and bustling world because of advancing years. For interest in life and people help to keep one young."

Summarized, the commissioner's creed resembles that of Pollyanna: Be thankful. Be thankful that you're here because you're here.

Charming Styles for Youth

WITH Autumn comes the desire for smart new things of every description. The college girl, so busy planning her winter wardrobe, will find every assistance here. For never before were displays more attractive than these from which to choose your Fall wardrobe.

Frocks Show Lovely Trimmings

THERE are those of velvet, beaded Georgette, soft satin, duvetyn and various wool materials. Youthful and slender in line, they are smarter and more becoming than ever. One, intriguingly French, is of tan duvetyn in blouse coat effect, with unique trimming of gold thread embroidery and narrow bands of jade duvetyn. Misses' Section, Sixth Floor, North, State.

Suits Express Unusual In Line and Material

SUITS for Fall and Winter are distinguished by their new and attractive materials. Veldyne, Peaudepeche, Tasmania and Chamoistyne are some of the most interesting. A very short coated model of Veldyne is charmingly youthful with its flaring ruffled coat, belted in with moleskin, which also trims the collar and cuffs.

Charming Wraps Are Here

WHEN one is slim and youthful and the season is Autumn, how charming are these Wraps, rich in material and trimming. The young Miss will find here every sort of wrap, for dayme or evening wear.

Exquisite Nets and Chiffons

CHEER and lovely are these imported Crepe Chiffons in colored flower patterns. The combinations of color are most unusual in either soft blended tones or more brilliant, daring colors. Another beautiful material for either the dinner or evening gown is French Voile Metallic Broche.

A new and different trimming for gowns is Fisherman's Net. In either a delicate or heavy mesh, it has plain or exquisitely hand-embroidered designs. Second Floor, South, State.

The Corset Is All-Important

REFORE planning your Aufumn wardrobe you will be pleased to hear that our new Fall models of Corsets have arrived and are now ready for your sebolic of Autumn sports, are especially smart. Besides the paddock styles, always so good, there are others, belted in, having patch pockets. Melton cloth in oxford gray, tweeds, suitings, black and white checks, are among the favored materials. There are also side saddle Suits in attractive styles. Sports Section, Sixth Floor, Wabash.

Among Fall Suits There Is Wide Scope for Individual Choice

IF short coats are most becoming to you, or if three-quarter length or even long ones suit you better, you can choose to your taste among Fall models. Materials, trimmings, and colors are lovely indeed, and allow

Little and Big, They All Love Pretty Clothes

Debutante Room

FROM the littlest girl to big sister who views her school wardrobe with pride, pretty clothes are as important as for the older members of the family. For dress-up and every day are children's attractive frocks and coats of simple and suitable styles and charming materials. For school there are pretty wool Frocks or plaited Skirts to be worn with either Middies or soft white blouses, and for the little girls, wash Frocks, so easily tubbed, are attractive.

The Patrician "Apple Blossoms"

BY PERCY HAMMOND.

HE imposing list of participants in "Apple Blossoms" is prophetic of an elegant and melodious if not a particularly light hearted evening at the Colonial. It names the polished Mr. Dillingham as its producer; the auspicious and moody Herr Kreisler (with Mr. Jacobi) as its composer; Dumas as its librettist (via William Le Baron); Miss Wilda Bennett as its prima donna-ingenue, and more effective than any of them, perhaps, the velvety-and-ivory voiced Mr. John Charles Thomas. The thrifty playgeer who cannot get from that bounteous store a run for his money is greedy indeed; or too fond of fun. There isn't a great deal of levity in the operetta, but it is de luxe so far as beauty goes, and for those awed by the imperious character of its song and setting there is dance by the limble Astaires (Fred and Adele), and now and then an unobtrusive moment of jocularity by Mr. Percival Knight then an unobtrusive moment of jocularity by Mr. Percival Knight.

Mr. Thomas, since he charmed us in "Maytime" with tones from his super-larangeses has learned to act. So, indeed, has Miss Bennett added that dubious art to the battery of her fascinations. In the case of Mr. Thomas the addition is felicitous, for now he is able to deport himself upon the stage as a human being, though reinfully as a human being, though painfully of the upper classes. Miss Bennett's stick and his gloves, and leaves the acquisition of the histrionic knack is chatueau upon the arm of a lady of the upper classes. less to be acclaimed. One compliments his past, a widow, smartly played, I her when he suggests that she is more pleasing when she is Miss Bennett than Bennett swoons upon an adjacent sofa. she is when she tries to be something and were it not for this scarlet thread else. The weakest points in a libretto are, like the est points in a chain, the most important, and one remembers them as standing apart in a none too sturdy book. The ladies of the chorus will not, perhaps, appeal to the first row voluptuaries, but they know how to join in the refrains and they look very, very respectable. I wish, too, that I could find more than a line to say that Miss Ruth Lee, as Julie, a wise maid, recalls the comely old-timers of her class, quietly and efficiently.

"GARDEN HOMES" OWNERS BACK UP HOUSING PLAN

Association Given Vote of Confidence.

A vote of confidence in the Chicago asociation was given by the occupants of "Garden Homes," at State and Eighty-seventh streets yesterday.

The housing association is attempting to solve the problem of decent homes for the wage earner by con-structing brick homes on large lots. The meeting yesterday was a sequel to one held last Friday night in the association rooms in the North American building by people who had been guaranteed houses, but who had not yet moved in. Both meetings ended with the vote of confidence.

Forced to Raise Price. The price of houses in "Garden Homes" has been raised from $4,300, originally specified as the cost, to $5.

since building started six months material tieups have boosted the cost of the association houses far beyond original estimates. In consequence it was originally intended that the tenants should make, have been raised to $37.50. HI COST HALTS SCHOOL

Labor unrest and unstable prices in building materials has resulted in the abandonment of plans to build a new $750,000 high school in Evanston. The new building was to have been erected on a sixty-five acre school site in the vestern section of Evanston, purchased last year by Evanston township school board.

When the bids were opened the officials found each contractor demanded clauses in the contract protecting them against increases in wages, strikes, and material. Announcement of the aban

International Petroleum

Company, Limited

BY MANFRED EMANUEL.
IChleago Tribune Foreiga News Service.]
LONDON, Aug. 29.—Happenings on the London stock exchange last week simply reflected the developments in the labor world regarding the possibility of a coal strike.

At first, when the strike seemed inevitable, prices began to give way all round. Later the feeling gained ground that the strike might be avoided and temporary railies occurred. On the other hand, the damage had been done. Business had fallen away to a negligible volume and no resumption of activity is expected until the air is clear.

The gilt edged markeds kept up fairly well on very moderate investment demand, which held up the prices of stocks, particularly those of various & per cent municipal bonds.

Kaffirs have been dull on tars of what might happen to the mining industry when the gold premium disappears. Oils after little support for the leaders relapsed and quotations crumbled away.

The industrial market mostly was affected by the coal strike danger. There was little pressure to sell and not much stock was offered, but naturally prices were reduced as a precautionary measure, while the so-called armament section became almost weak.

On the week's closing day quotations were marked up slightly, though this was largely a professional measure to make the market flook healthier and thus attract buying over the week end.

The whole stock exchange position depends on the outcome of the miners' demands, and though the outlook is brighter at the moment, it will be some days before the actual results are known.

Closing Days of the August Sales

These are the last two opportunity days of the August Sales.

Those who have requirements to supply in shoes for any member of the family, in furniture for the home, in metal beds, curtains, blankets or towels will find today and Tuesday profitable days indeed at this store.

And the August Sale of Furs also presents advantages of first importance.

These Cloth Frocks Favored For the New Fashion Features They Bring

Women choosing a frock here will find that the cloth frock of 1920 is a delightful departure from cloth frocks of other seasons.

They will find this newness expressed with an unusual degree of individuality in each style presented for choosing. Note in the sketch how effectively

Grosgrain Ribbon Trims Tricotine Frocks at $90

Grosgrain ribbon used as a braid on the bodice and skirt is a novel and very charming feature of this frock. The lowered waist-line is accented by a soft wide sash, and there is a thread of gold in the heavy silk fringe.

Tailored frocks of fine Poiret twill, $75, have countless rows of tiny tuckings. Fourth Floor, North.

The Way of Fall Suits

Is Pointed by Distinct New Features

And in the well-chosen selection of suits here, it would seem every suit brings a definite fashion message.

Colors and styles are those of authentic favor. Fabrics are chosen to best express the new mode. Many new features distinguish these

Duvet Chamoise Suits Chenille, $125

The coat is a bit shorter and has just a suggestion of a flare. The collar is this season's own. And the rich material is an excellent background for the charming chenille motifs on coat and skirt. The color is one of this fall's favored shades, a soft brown.

The woman interested in the new will profit greatly, we believe, by viewing the assortments of suits displayed here now. Fourth Floor, North.

Plaids Added to Pleats Sum Up the Smartness of These New Separate Skirts

A fashion sum but by no means a fashion problem-when one selects a skirt here. Among the delightful new arrivals are noted-

Black and White Gabardine Skirts, $25 Knife-pleated, slim in line. With a belt which buttons trimly. Expertly tailored. This is the skirt at the left below, instantly sought out for favor.

Brown and Blue Plaided Skirts, $35 This skirt could be worn with a coat or sweater of almost any shade, so cleverly are the colors harmonized in this plaid velour. Sketched below, at the right. Basket Weave Skirts Are $15 These skirts suggest the English woman's sports attire in the smart material and "outdoor" colors—Oxford

These Fine All-Wool

Blankets $15.75 Pair

Featured for the Last Days of the August Blanket Sale

Wool-mixed Blankets, $10.95 Pair

In attractive block patterns of pink, yellow, blue and gray. Also white with colored borders, nicely bound, size 70 x 80

Cotton blankets in Indian designs of striking coloring, desirable for automobile rugs or for den furnishings. Priced at Seventh Floor, South.

For the Last Days of the August Towel Sale

Many assortments, of which we can mention but a few, remain advantageously priced. But this sale ends Tuesday.

Huck Towels, $13.80 Dozen

Hemmed all-linen huck towels of serviceable quality, size 28 x 34 inches, at $13.80 dozen.

Hemstitched union huck towels with red or blue borders, size 18 x 34 inches, at $9 Hemmed cotton huck towels in all-white or with red borders. Size 18 x 36 inches at $3 Hemmed bleached Turkish bath towels ot heavy weight inches at 80c each. Hemmed bleached Turkish bath towels of extra heavy weight and in size 20 x 41 and absorbent nap. Size 23 x 42 inches at 65c each. Second Floor, North.

The Luxury of Fine Furs-and the Advantage of Unusual Pricings

Mark the Closing Days of The August Fur Sale

Here are furs for every taste and every type. From single skins to luxurious wraps of faultlessly blended pelts, each piece proves the genius of the furrier, in style, workmanship and selection. Such furs, obtainable at August Sale pricings, merit genuine consideration.
